ELEMENTARY

WEEK TWO:

1 SAMUEL 1:6-2:1
Hannah Prays for a Baby

SAY THIS:

When you think you can't wait,
talk to God about it.

DO THIS:

MEAL TIME

Q & A for kids: What part of your Easter celebration do you find hardest to wait for?

Q & A for parents: What Easter traditions did your family have when you were a child?

REMEMBER THIS:

“Wait for the Lord. Be strong and don’t lose hope. Wait for the Lord!”
Psalm 27:14, NIRV

LIFE APP:
PATIENCE – Waiting until later for what you want now

From Parent Cue:

YOU ARE NOT DISQUALIFIED

By Carey Nieuwhof

No new parent begins by saying, “I hope I mess up my child’s life.” Who ever sets out to be the villain in the story? But at one point or another, we end up there, don’t we?

You leave for vacation but are yelling at the kids before you’re even out of town.

You’re home most nights, but you’re far too tired to engage.

Your date night ends in an argument.

You make empty threats to your kids that would make you wince if you heard other parents make them. But you are all out of tricks, so you threaten anyway.

Sometimes the temptation is to think that our failures should disqualify us as a parent. At least as a good parent. But when you think like that, you are wrong.

What if the very thing you think is disqualifying you right now is actually qualifying you for a new chapter in your life in Christ? What if your weakness was a portal to new strength? . . .
